

SENATOR SHOUF ON SILVER.

Senator George L. Shoup, of Idaho, takes a very different view of the object of the proposed International Monetary Conference, from that of the Republican papers of Nevada. On his return from Washington he remained a few days at Salt Lake City. He said he was exceedingly gratified at the growing sentiment in the East in favor of silver. The business men were coming to realize the fact that the great depression of the last few years is the direct result of the demonetization of silver, and many who formerly favored the single standard, are now becoming ardent supporters of the free coinage of silver. The Herold, gives the following interview with the Senator, which shows that he believes the monetary conference to be a scheme to retard free coinage:

"To what do you attribute the recent advance in the price of silver?"

"To the increased demand for silver in the arts and the growing impression that silver must soon be restored to its proper place as money."

"Do you attribute any of the advance to speculation?"

"No, speculation played an important part in debasing the white metal, but it has nothing to do with the advance."

"What do you think of the proposed International Monetary Conference?"

"It is a scheme by which the monetary metalists hope to retard the restoration of silver. I had should our Government again send commissioners it would result only in a failure to decide on any ratio satisfactory to this country."

"You do not then favor our Government taking any part in another conference?"

"No not until this Government has declared for free coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1; after that we can afford to accept an invitation to meet with foreign nations in conference, if our ratio is not satisfactory to them. I believe this nation has the power and will exercise it, to fix the ratio, as we are the largest silver producing nation in the world."

Senator Shoup believes this nation has the power to fix the ratio between gold and silver and he is in favor of exercising that power. Then if foreign nations are not satisfied with our ratio a conference will be in order. We are the largest silver producing nation in the world and we should not wait for nations which produce no silver, to say upon what terms silver shall be coined. If the silver-plated gold-bugs of this and other silver-producing States were capable of taking as comprehensive and as logical a view of the silver question as Senator Shoup, then the whole West would present an unbroken front to the Gold Trust, and the Presidential election next year would settle the silver question and make the country the most prosperous on the globe.

THE MINT ROBBERY.

Over two months ago the authorities at Washington were informed of a shortage in the Carson Mint by its Superintendent. It has since been made known to the public that a shortage does exist. That shortage has been variously estimated by newspapers and correspondents at from $65,000 to $100,000. The authorities for three weeks have been in possession of facts which prove beyond doubt that over $20,000 of granulated gold, about 990 fine, was melted into bars at Reno; that the bars were shipped to San Francisco; that the value of the bars, less transportation charges, was paid to the person who had the bullion melted; that that person was a resident of Carson at the time he had the gold run into bars, and that he was in the country after they were informed of the above facts. They knew his name and whereabouts, that the gold which he had melted and the value of which he had received had been refined, as it was purer than any that ever came direct from a quartz or placer mine. They also knew that gold of like fineness had been disposed of by a resident of Carson to a Virginia City bullion dealer, and that smaller quantities of refined gold in a granulated state had been melted into bars here and elsewhere, yet no arrests have been made. It is not surprising under such circumstances that those who were aware that the authorities were in possession of the above facts marveled why no attempt has been made to bring the guilty parties to justice. It is not strange, knowing the strained relations existing between the present mint management and certain persons who are said to be engaged by the government in working up the shortage case, that people ask if any serious attempt is being made to arrest the guilty parties? The officials know who had the refined gold melted. They must also know, as it can scarcely be considered a secret, who disposed of refined bullion to a Virginia City dealer, and why they do not arrest those persons and bring them face to face with their accusers before a court of justice is a much greater mystery to several persons than what has become of the stolen bullion?

THE INCOME TAX LAW.

The decision of the Supreme Court exempts from taxation, incomes from rents, and from State, county and municipal bonds. It is thought that not over $1,500,000 revenue would be derived from the incomes on the exempted bonds, but it is believed that the revenue from the incomes from rents would be about $15,000,000. The decision, therefore, has a dispiriting effect on the Treasury officials, who expected, through the medium of the tax, to make the Government receipts cover the expenditures.

The fact that the Court was evenly divided on the constitutionality of the Income Tax law, is another cause of regret at the Treasury Department, as it is feared it will result in almost endless legislation. Only eight of the nine Justices of the Supreme Court heard arguments in the case; hence the tie. It is said that if Justice Jackson, who was not present during the hearing of the case on account of illness, should resign there is reason to believe that his successor would sustain the law, in which event another test case would be brought before the court.

As the law now stands the great bondholders of the country do not have to pay taxes on their incomes from rents. The Astors, and other multimillionaires, whose incomes from rents amount to millions of dollars a year, and who spend those incomes in Europe, are exempt from taxation for the support of the general Government, while the merchant, the farmer and the professional man is taxed 2 per cent. on all income, which they may derive from their business, in excess of $4,000 for that purpose.

DR. LANSING APOLOGIZES.

Rev. Dr. Lansing, who in a public speech at a Methodist Conference, charged that President Cleveland was intoxicated at several dinners given in his honor, says his assertion was based on common report and the testimony of eye-witnesses, whom he believed to be reliable, and if it is not in harmony with facts, he regrets having made it, and makes this apology:

"I could have neither desire nor motive for saying anything unkind or uncharitable of the President or of any party whatsoever. The case being one of a conflict of testimony between witnesses of equal credibility I cannot decide, and since I have no personal knowledge apart from the testimony, I withdraw the statement and tender apologetic and sincere regrets to the President of the United States and to the public."

At Lowell, Massachusetts, Henry M. Entwistle courted Miss Maria Clegg. The lady's father objected to the match. Entwistle shot and wounded Miss Clegg, intending to kill her and then commit suicide. He was convicted of an assault with intent to kill and was sentenced to fifteen years in State Prison. The young lady recovered, married her lover and secured his release from prison.

JAPAN'S TERMS.

Surmises as to the Conditions That Will Be Imposed on China

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The Japan-China armistice closes in ten days, so it is anticipated by officials and diplomats that final terms of peace must be near at hand. It is stated, however, by diplomats of experience with China and the Koreans, that it is characteristic with them not to meet an emergency until the last day. A case is cited in which Japan gave Korea three months to acquiesce in certain conditions. There was no response until the day before the three months expired, when the Korean officials appeared and stated that the subject had been overlooked and more time was desired, which request, however, was not granted. It would not be surprising if Li Hung Chang took the full ten days before yielding to all of Japan's demands.

Reports that the indemnity will be about 400,000,000 yen coincide with the understanding here that $200,000,000 would be the amount of the payment. The present rate of exchange on silver yen is 47 cents, so that 400,000,000 silver yen would be $188,000,000.

It is agreed by all hands, including the Japanese and Chinese officials, that the independence of Korea will be one of the terms of peace. This brings out the curious fact that the United States is the only power which hitherto recognized Korea's independence and has received a diplomatic delegation from that country.

It is stated that some time ago China addressed a private letter to all foreign powers, in which she argued that Korea was independent in conducting her national affairs, but was a tributary of China so far as dealings with foreign powers were concerned. It has never been disclosed what answer the powers gave, but from the fact that Korea has no diplomatic legation outside of the United States, it is concluded the European powers acquiesced in the Chinese suggestion and failed to accord Korea complete independence of China. It is understood the United States never made any formal reply to China's contention, but the establishment of a Korean legation at Washington was a tacit refusal to recognize her authority over Korea and a recognition of the latter's independence.

It is believed that the peace agreement between Japan and China will so conspicuously affirm Korea's independence that the whole kingdom will extend her treaty relations with the remainder of the world and establish legations throughout Europe as well as in the United States.

Crushed Under a Trolley Car.

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—Tommy Taylor, the twelve-year-old son of A. G. Taylor, attempted, in company with another boy, to jump on the front platform of an electric car on F street yesterday afternoon. The boys jostled each other and both lost their hold and fell, Tommy falling under the car, which crushed his leg between the knee and ankle so that it will have to be amputated.

A Sacramento Millionaire Admitted to American Citizenship.

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—A. Coolot, a millionaire merchant, who has resided here for many years, was admitted to citizenship to-day. It created no little surprise in and about the courthouse when Mr. Coolot asked to be taken in to the arms of Uncle Sam. It had long been thought that, while Coolot liked the color of American money, he was too patriotic to renounce allegiance to his mother country.

Judge Johnson took occasion to say to the applicant for citizenship that it was a remarkable thing for a man to live in this country for forty years or more, enjoying all its blessings and accumulating a fortune here, without becoming one of its citizens, one of its supporters.

Mr. Coolot said that he desired to become a citizen of the United States for the reason that he had large property interests here and by becoming a citizen he could the better protect them. From the papers filed by Mr. Coolot, it was learned that he had first made application to become a citizen in New Orleans on April 5, 1854. He gave his age as 29 years at that time and his nativity as Austria.

Opium Seized.

STOCKTON, April 10.—Special Revenue Officers John T. Foley and S. A. Devine made a raid on Chinatown to-day and captured a quantity of unstamped opium. All crude opium that has been cooked in this country has to pay a tribute to the Government, and when the drug is found without the Government stamp it is confiscated. In five of the Chinese stores the contraband drug was found.

The stuff will be shipped to San Francisco and there auctioned off to pay the Government tax.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

How the Gold Aristocracy Humbles the People.

Question.—What does the goldbug aristocracy mean when they say that the greenbacks were destroyed and silver was demonetized for the benefit of wage-earners and farmers?

Answer.—It is one of the lies that they have been preaching to the people for more than twenty years. They have employed thousands of fiery campaign orators to talk it into the voters, and for the time being they have succeeded. It is estimated that these crafty plutocratic bondholders have cleared several billion dollars on the investment.

Q.—How did the bondholders manage to reap such a harvest by the destruction of the paper currency and the demonetization of silver?

A.—By cutting three-fourths of the supply of money, and by having absolute control of the other fourth, enables them to fix its value. They are forcing the people to borrow, and reborrow this limited amount of money several times a year. This increases the demand for money in a compound ratio. These crafty bondholders do not toil, neither do they spin, but by a little steering of financial legislation they have sold the people of both hemispheres into perpetual bondage.

Q.—Do the bondholders appear to be satisfied with the present condition of affairs?

A.—No. As long as they could engage the people in a sham battle over a sham issue, they were in their glory and witnessed the sham contest with much delight, but since the Populists have been showing them up in their true colors they have become very nervous and far the result. The declarations of the Omaha platform has given these crafty international bondholders the nightmare.

Q.—Why do the plutocrats have such a dread of the Populists?

A.—Because the demands of the Omaha Convention are just and right. There is nothing that a plutocrat fears as much as he does justice.

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., writes HENRY HENSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., 'none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 16 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old mother urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the pain of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me.'"

SKIPPED WITH THE GOLD.

One of the Carson Mint Thieves Leave For Parts Unknown.

The San Francisco Examiner has the following relative to the Carson Mint robbery:

The participants in the Carson Mint steal are seeking cover as rapidly as they know how.

James Heney, for four years a helper in the refining room of the Nevada mint, is the last man to be numbered among the missing.

When Mr. Heney left this section of the country he took with him many secrets into which the Government officials were anxious to pry. He also carried away, so the story runs, much wealth to which his brother, Marshal Heney, has a claim.

James Heney is one of the men suspected of having helped to create that $80,000 shortage at Carson.

Heney served the Government during the Republican Administration and retired from office a year or more ago, when Superintendent Adams took charge of affairs.

Immediately after his retirement he came to this city and branched out as a speculator.

Through his agent, L. W. Howe, he made numerous investments, but refused to deal in real estate. He had ready cash and wished to place it where it would bring the best returns.

Mortgages were his hobby, and he soon acquired quite a number.

NOT A CAPITALIST IN NEVADA.

In Nevada Heney had never been looked upon as a man of means, and it was generally recognized that he could not accumulate any vast sum working as he did in the mint for $3 a day. Consequently his numerous investments caused comment among the Nevada people who made trips to San Francisco and heard of his doings.

It was not until the mint scandal developed, however, that people learned the exact condition of affairs. When the first news of the shortage reached this city Heney disappeared. Then stories of his doings while an employee became current.

Heney, it is charged, while working at the Carson Mint, became aware of what was going on. He did not take the trouble to report his discovery to any superior officer. Instead he is accused of having used it to his own advantage.

By threatening to expose them he forced the men who were looting the mint to declare him in on the scheme. Just what his share was is not known, but whatever the man received he shipped to a brother who was living at Folsom in this State.

This brother, Michael Heney, had the bullion remelted and shipped to the San Francisco Mint for coinage by a Folsom merchant, who was made an innocent party to the steal.

INVESTED THE MONEY HERE.

After the bullion was converted into coin the money was turned over to James Heney, who was then in this city, and invested, the understanding being that Michael Heney should have a half interest in all accruing profits.

This plan worked nicely until the discovery at Carson. Then the brothers, fearing exposure, planned to leave the country. It was arranged that James should gather in all the money possible and then join Michael at Sacramento, whence the two were to make their way out of the country.

James obeyed instructions so far as they related to gathering in the money. He failed, however, to make connections with the brother at Sacramento. Instead he continued right on eastward, and is now supposed to be on his way to England, while Michael is believed to be hiding somewhere in the State.

That Heney managed his departure skillfully, several circumstances indicate. His landlady at 422 Minna street was given no inkling of what was to occur. Carrying home one evening Mr. Heney informed her that he had been suddenly called out of town, and begged that his room be held until he returned. The good woman is still holding the room.

DID NOT TELL HIS AGENT.

Nor was the man's agent, L. W. Howe, told that his client was about to depart. Heney called on Howe one morning and asked for his deeds and papers, explaining that he desired to deposit them with a trust company. Howe has not seen him since. The trust company holds the deeds and papers, but its officers refuse to discuss the whereabouts of Heney.

The investments made by Howe for Heney amount to several thousand dollars and were consummated just about the time he retired from the mint. Heney also left behind him a wife and several children.

In addition to Heney there is another man, until recently a resident of this city, whose previous connections with the Carson Mint are looked on with suspicion.

Henry Piper was for many years, and until a few months ago, a helper. He severed his connection with the Mint under circumstances somewhat peculiar.

PIPER AND JONES WERE FRIENDS.

Piper, who is a brother of John Piper of Virginia City Opera House fame, is an intimate friend of John T. Jones, and frequently joined him in trips to this city. The visits never lasted more than four or five days and the average daily expenditure reached almost $200.

Jones did not waste all his money in high living. He also had an agent in this city who undertook to invest his cash. In these dealings Jones did not figure directly, in consequence of which much trouble is being experienced in tracing his real estate transactions.

The Next Play at the Opera House

Seats are selling finely for the presentation of this thrilling and sublime drama, which will be given at McKislocks Opera House, next Tuesday night, the 16th inst, by an excellent local cast, under the auspices of Amity Lodge, Knights of Pythias. It is under the direction of Mr. Laurie, assisted by Mrs. Katie Laurie as Calanthe. The Fresno Republican, speaking of the play as presented in that city, says:

"The play moved along smoothly last evening, and not a single hitch occurred to mar its effect. All the members of the cast were perfect in their dialogue, and each and every character was creditably rendered. The opera house was comfortably filled and the audience evinced its appreciation by frequent and vociferous applause. Briefly stated the play was well presented and highly appreciated."

"The character of Calanthe, betrothed of Pythias, was assumed by Mrs. Katie Laurie, a part that she has previously played, and the lines were as her own words, thereby making the impersonation delightful and spontaneous. Mrs. Laurie has a charming stage presence, a sympathetic voice, in fact she is a skillful actress, and her Calanthe was winsome, womanly and beautiful."

"Little Miss Lizzie Laurie, as Little Damon, captivated the hearts of all. She is a bright little tot, and as pretty as she is clever."

"Much credit is due the manager and actor, E. S. Laurie, for the successful presentation of 'Damon and Pythias,' and in appreciation of his talent and efforts, the audience last evening called him before the curtain between the third and fourth acts. Mr. Laurie responded in a few well chosen words and recited a selection in an artistic manner."

THE MINT BULLION.

The Plain Facts Given By the "Journal" Unpalatable to Some People.

The JOURNAL yesterday gave some plain facts regarding the bullion stolen from the mint. These facts are susceptible of proof and are therefore unpalatable to some people. Some of those people, while not daring to dispute the facts, tried to break their force by stating that certain persons formerly connected with the mint, and suspected of being implicated in the bullion theft, had left for parts unknown. Well, it must be admitted, that if they did not get out of the country it was their own fault, the sleuth-hounds certainly gave them ample time to get away.

The JOURNAL gave no names, did not accuse any particular person of stealing the gold, did not say that those implicated had left the country or had invested largely in mortgages, or that the gold coins made at the Carson Mint contained more alloy than those made at any other mints, but it did say that about $20,000 of refined gold was brought to Reno, that the officers knew the name of the person who received the proceeds of that bullion, and that these are facts that can be proved, all of which it now reiterates. It also stated that the refined gold was brought to Reno before Superintendent Adams had charge of the mint, and, disagreeable as it may be to certain individuals, it is true.

A SHOOTING AFFRAY

A Nye County Farmer Wounds His Neighbor.

D. W. Mitchell, a Nye county farmer, surrendered himself to Sheriff Easton at Austin. He said he had shot and wounded Patrick Bowler, father of H. M. Bowler, an attorney of Hawthorne.

Mitchell and Bowler are neighbors on Reese river, in this county, some thirty-five miles from here. They have had more or less difficulty about water rights and this morning met on Mitchell's ranch, where Bowler proceeded to break a dam built by Mitchell, who objected and rough language passed, when Bowler made at Mitchell with a large club. Mitchell drew a small pistol and fired, hitting Bowler in the arm. Bowler renewed the assault, when Mitchell fired two more shots. Bowler's team started to run and he followed, and Mitchell ran home, mounted a horse and rode to Austin.

Bowler and his son John also went to Austin. Dr. Huntsman out the bullet from Bowler's arm and says he is not seriously hurt. It is likely the Sheriff of Nye county will be after Mitchell in a day or two and he will be sent to Belmont. This shooting took place in the same neighborhood where John O'Toole killed Geo. B. Smith last Summer. Mitchell is a son-in-law of ex-County Treasurer Geo. M. Dyer, of Lander county, and has a wife and two children. Bowler is between sixty and seventy years of age and has a family of grown children.

The Gitter of White Teeth.

Beautified by fragrant SOZODONT, behind a dark mustache, makes sad havoc with the ladies and teeth thus imperiled in the mouth of a pretty girl, are fatal to the peace of bedchambers.

"THE TALLY-HO."

"The Tally-ho" is all "the go." You see it every where. On street and car, both near and far. It's worn by maidens fair.

It's nice, unique, it's light and neat. It's appearance simply charming. It makes the girls all look so sweet. When out on promenading.

It can be had in black and white. Brown, tan and navy. The girls all say—"It's out of sight." "Too cute" and "Just a beauty."

Now if you're anxious for a beau. And want to look quite "ohio." Just buy one with a trolly, O. And you'll catch one mighty quick.

Oh! golly girls! it's just "the thing." The latest fad you bet. To have your "Dude" held by a string. So never away it can get.

There's not a girl, that e'er you meet. That does not say it's pretty. And if she has some coin you bet. She'll buy one in a "jiffy."

For a "tally-ho," go to Miss Motley's.

BREVITIES.

Frank Hayes will ship six cars of cattle to San Francisco to-day.

John Bradley and N. H. A. Mason took the train for Deeth last evening.

Wm. Thompson is seriously considering the erection of a large addition to the Riverside Hotel.

Dr. Van Harlingen has lost a pocket case of surgical instruments. A reward will be paid for the return of the same; see 50-cent column.

Travel on the trains was extremely light last evening. There are few through passengers either east or west, and local travel is very light.

A '49 mining camp will be opened at Chicago on May 1st. The camp will be conducted on a much larger scale than it was at the Midwinter Fair.

M. Cecil of the Palace will attempt a run to Virginia on his bike to-day, but his friends prophesy that he will only get as far as the iron bridge.

Judge Hiram Knowles of the United States District Court of Montana fell fifteen feet down an elevator shaft and fractured his right hip joint.

The tickets for the play of Damon and Pythias are going like hot cakes, over 225 reserved seats having been taken up to yesterday. It promises to be one of the best plays ever given in Reno.

George Chrysler informs the Anstin Reville that one of Judge Greenbalt's brood mares at Smoky Valley gave birth to twin colts last week, one of which is coal black and the other pure white.

Mr. Mason, who is investigating the mint, is a very devout Christian. The Appeal says he delivered a discourse at the Presbyterian Church last Sunday evening from the text, "I Came From Jerusalem to Jericho and Fell Among Thieves."

The State Board of Health desires the newspapers to say that the reservoirs from which Reno is now supplied with water are in a foul condition and the water is dangerous to the health of the community, in fact much more so than it has been for the past eighteen months.

Attention was called yesterday to the immense water power going to waste every day. Why not start a paper mill, or use power for the transmission of electricity to Carson, Virginia and other places. Talk to Bill Thompson and he will do more than his share towards any benefit for the town.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Young of Lovelocks arrived in Reno yesterday on a visit to friends. Mr. Young has expended thousands of dollars on an irrigating canal at Lovelocks, but he has suspended operations and will not resume work until silver is remonetized, which he hopes will be in the very near future.

The Nevada Poultry Company is meeting with great success. The last trial of eggs in the company's great incubator is exceeding all expectations. A JOURNAL reporter visited the poultry yards Sunday and Mr. Dignum, the manager, showed him the wonders of hatching chickens by machinery. It is a sight worth seeing, and Mr. Dignum or Mr. Chamberlain are always ready and glad to show visitors what they are doing.

Spring Medicine is a necessity because the tonic of winter air is gone, and milder weather, increased moisture, accumulated impurities in the blood and debilitated condition of the body, open the way for that tired feeling, nervous troubles, and other ills. The skin, mucous membrane and the various organs strive in vain to relieve the impure current of life. They all welcome

Hood's Sarsaparilla to assist Nature at this time when she most needs help, to purify the blood, tone and strengthen the laboring organs and build up the nerves.

"I was not able to wait on myself and could not gain any strength until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla about three months ago. Now I am doing my household work. My right lung was badly affected, and in the spring and summer I was very weak, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me much good and I have great confidence in it." Mrs. E. R. KNOTT, Tecumseh, Okla.

INFANT PRODIGES.

Some Famous Men Whose Childhood Was as Remarkable as Their Maturity.

Sir Christopher Wren was a prodigy in youth, as in maturity. Oughted, the first mathematician of his day, declares in the preface to his great book that an "ingenious boy, gentleman commoner at Wadham," had rendered the sciences of astronomy, gnomonics, statics and mechanics by most brilliant discoveries, "præclaris inventis." This was Wren at the age of 15. A year before that he had taken out a patent for an instrument to write with two pens at the same time. In the same year he was appointed demonstrating assistant on anatomy at Surgeons' hall.

Wren lived to justify his early promise, but Dugal Stewart tells us of a boy who, as he hoped, "would rival the fame of Sir Isaac Newton." This was the son of Count Fugestall. "I cannot help considering him," wrote the Scotch professor, "as the most extraordinary prodigy of intellectual endowment that has ever fallen under my knowledge." This is a great saying indeed from Dugal Stewart, who was not given to enthusiasm nor careless expression.

Unfortunately we have no detailed information about the youth's acquirements in later years. He died at 19 of general decay apparently. But Mr. Lemaistre met him in his travels and published an account in 1806, the boy being then 5 years old. "He sits on a carpet, surrounded by his books, and when the gravest and most acute remarks fall from the lips of this little person a spirit seems to speak rather than child, and the fine expression which sparkles on his countenance tends to strengthen the idea."

Among other tests, Mr. Lemaistre asked him to make a map of the Venetian empire, which he did with accuracy. Those competent to judge the fact will readily believe that the child of 5 years who performed it was an animated miracle. The French armies barred nearly every road in Europe to an English traveler at that date. Mr. Lemaistre asked how he could get home without touching Hanoverian, French or Dutch territory. The child "instantly traced on the globe the single road remaining open." It is well for this gentleman's credit that Dugal Stewart's evidence, long afterward, makes the story possible. -Chicago Times.

INCREASING LENGTH OF LIFE,
Modern Heroes at Least Are Longer Lived Than Jane Austen's Were.

Is the human race becoming longer lived despite the fret and fever of modern civilization? It is an interesting question, and it may very probably be answered some day by science in the affirmative. The longevity of professional men is now generally considered to be greater than that of farmers or mechanics. In other words, intellectual activity, although in many respects more exhausting than physical, has in the main a salutary effect upon the human frame. It may be the nerves rather than the muscles upon which two mainly depend, after all. It is a commonplace of observation that the big, hearty men are constantly dropping out of the world, while those of far more fragile organizations apparently live on to a ripe old age.

As to the increasing longevity of the race generally, there is no little incidental testimony on this head to be gathered from various sources. Some of the early heroes and heroines of romance are old before they reach what we should call middle life. And at the beginning of our own century Jane Austen, whose testimony is always unimpeachable, speaks of the healthy and contented woman of 40 as having a good prospect of 20 years of life yet. Twenty years! What woman of today thinks of herself as falling into decrepitude at 60? Elsewhere in Miss Austen's pages we run across people who are old with the passage of half a century of life. But now we have Gladstones at 80 and over and think nothing of it. -Providence Journal.

Liquid Compensation.
As illustrating the great value placed on a little whisky by some folks in rural Maine, where "prohibition prohibits," this story is told: "A big red faced fellow, who was suffering from a long spell of enforced abstinence as well as from an injured toe, was brought into the office of a well known physician of central Maine to have the toe amputated. The sufferer objected to the use of ether or chloroform, but when the doctor turned out a tumbler of whisky for him to drink he no longer opposed the proceedings, and the toe was cut off without trouble. Reviving after the operation, he looked at the foot meditatively for a moment, and then cocked his eyeshrowdly at the doctor. 'Say, doc,' he remarked, 'gi' me another tumblerful of that whisky, an you may cut off another toe if you wantar.' -Lewiston Journal.

It Was In Inverse Ratio.
"You don't want that $25 hat, Mary," said Mr. Muggins, who was with his wife in the milliner's store. "It's too big anyhow. Now, if the milliner could only take off four or five feathers it would be all right."

"That's easy," interposed the milliner sweetly, suiting the action to the word. "And there you have a love of a little bonnet." And then, as Mr. Muggins felt for his pocketbook smilingly, thinking of the economy he had effected, she added, "Now it's only $50." -Chicago Record.
